Buenos Aires has earned the title of “The Paris of Latin America”, not only for its architecture and its style, but also because it is one of the biggest art producing cities in South America

Discover the city’s artistic treasures in its important museums, visit the permanent exhibitions of works by some of the most famous artists in the world and stop by the exclusive art galleries in Recoleta to appreciate the work of various Argentinean and South American artists.

On this tour an expert art historian will guide you around the galleries and private art studios, where you can appreciate some of the most important art collections in the country. If you take the tour on a Sunday, you can visit the flea market and the antiques shops in San Telmo.
